MISSOULA---

The University of Montana women's gymnastics team ran its 1978 record to 11-2 with a 107.75 to 104.87 win over Boise State last Saturday in Missoula.

Marsha Hamilton, UM senior all-around performer from Great Falls, took all-around honors for the fourth time this season. Hamilton won three individual events, completing her day's work with an 8.06 in the floor exercise. Her combined score of 30.32 edged out two Boise State competitors for the title.

"As a team, we had very strong performances on the beam and in the floor exercise," UM Coach Sharon Dinkel said. She added, however that the bars and vault performances were not up to par.

In addition to Hamilton, UM got a strong showing from Georgia Rand, who took sixth in floor exercise and tied for fifth with teammate Michelle Wilson in the balance beam. Sandy Sullivan had a good day on the beam, taking fourth behind teammate Maureen Wallace (third) and Marsha Hamilton (second). Dinkel said she was also pleased with Laura Blake's fifth in bars.

The GrizzlyGals will present a demonstration at the Fieldhouse Recreation Annex, Thursday at 7:30 p.m.

Marsha Hamilton and Maureen Wallace, UM's two top all-arounders, will compete in the Western Hemisphere Games this weekend at California State University at Hayward. The competition will include the top two all-around performers from 16 colleges in the West.
